

Special Issue

Porous Nanomaterials for Tissue Engineering and Drug Delivery

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite you to participate in the forthcoming Special Issue of Pharmaceutics on “Porous Nanomaterials for Tissue Engineering and Drug Delivery”. This Special Issue aims to highlight the current and future opportunities of porous nanomaterials for the application of tissue engineering and drug delivery. Porous nanomaterials, such as porous silica, porous carbon, porous bioactive glass, porous titian, metal–organic framework, and porous polymers, show great promise for applications in drug delivery and tissue engineering due to their unique porous nature. This Special Issue will cover research on novel methods for the fabrication of advanced porous nanomaterials and their specific applications in the field of biomedical science, including drug and gene delivery, sensing, and tissue engineering. Both original articles and reviews are welcome. We look forward to receiving your contributions.
