

Special Issue

Exclusive Papers of the Editorial Board Members of the Journal Photochem

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue of Photochem is dedicated to recent advances in the research area of photochemistry and comprises a selection of exclusive papers of the Editorial Board Members (EBMs) of the journal Photochem. This Special Issue collects either research articles highlighting interesting results obtained by the research groups of our journal's EBMs or review articles in which our journal's EBMs discuss key topics in the field. This Special Issue aims to represent our journal as an attractive open-access publishing platform for photochemistry research. All EBMs are invited to contribute original research articles or comprehensive reviews, all of which will be peer-reviewed before acceptance for publication.
