Heat-Resistant and Flame-Retardant Polymer Materials

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue, entitled Heat-Resistant and Flame-Retardant Polymer Materials, is committed to disseminating high-quality original research articles or comprehensive reviews on the cutting-edge developments in this field. Heat-resistant polymers play crucial roles in a huge number of research fields: communication, electronics, transportation, aviation, aerospace, automobiles, etc. The increasing interest in heat-resistant polymer materials, which may be due to their strong molecular structure, designability, and easy synthesis, the ease of integration of forming structures that are suitable for practical applications, as well as their excellent properties such as heat resistance, solvent resistance, and high modulus, meet the demands of extreme working environments.
