

Special Issue

Stabilization of Bio-Based Polymeric Materials

Message from the Guest Editors

Ecological requirements play an important role in the development of stabilizers for polymers, especially bio-based ones. This Special Issue is dedicated to the latest research on these topics and covers all aspects of stabilization of broad-based bio-based polymeric materials. Both original contributions and comprehensive reviews are welcome. Potential topics include but are not limited to the following: Stabilization of bio-based polymeric materials; Degradation of bio-based polymeric materials; Chemical additives for bio-based polymeric materials; Analysis of bio-based polymeric materials; Bio-based polymeric materials; Packaging materials; Biodegradability of polymeric materials; Ecology.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Since its foundation in 2009, Polymers has developed into an internationally renowned, extremely successful open access journal. The editorial team and the editorial board dedicatedly combine open-access publishing and high-quality rigorous peer reviewing. The performance of the journal has proven this strategy to be well-suited and highly successful. This is reflected in the increasing impact factor of Polymers, the most recent one being 4.7.

I would like to invite you to contribute to the success of the journal by sending us your high quality research papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, PubMed, PMC, FSTA, CAPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Polymer Science) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Chemistry)
