Bio-Inspired Functional Polymers: Design, Manufacture and Application

Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues

Nature has endowed organisms with many amazing abilities which enable organisms to stably form a biosphere under the conditions of low carbon or low energy consumption. This has provided great inspiration for human beings. At the same time, the development of intelligent materials is a hot research topic among scholars, and it also provides important support for human life to become more intelligent. Through this Special Issue, we hope to communicate about bioinspired design and manufacturing, as well as reflect its current hotspots, new challenges, and future perspectives.
