Message from the Guest Editors

The Special Issue, “Bioreactor System: Design, Modeling and Continuous Production Process”, will address experimental/theoretical research and latest progress in the field of bioreactor systems.

Bioreactors play an important role in many industries, including fermentation, food, pharmaceuticals, and wastewater treatment. Bioreactor is the heart of any biochemical process in which enzymes, microbial, mammalian, or plant cell systems are used for the manufacture of a wide range of useful biological products. The objective of this issue is to showcase the diversity and advances in research that contributes to developing effective systems for the microorganism culture and biochemical production.

Original papers are solicited on experimental/theoretical studies on bioreactor systems. We are particularly interested in receiving manuscripts that integrate biology and engineering research and/or experimental and theoretical studies. We invite researchers from all areas of bioengineering to submit manuscripts for this important Special Issue of Processes.
