

Special Issue

Trends of Machine Learning in Multidisciplinary Engineering Processes

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue on “Trends of Machine Learning in Multidisciplinary Engineering Processes” aims to attract paper submissions to provide a cohesive and novelty perspective on ML methods that will be integrated in multidisciplinary engineering processes to resolve the challenges in the industrialization and communications. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- The development of new ML algorithms/applications in manufacturing processes.
- The development of new networking-based ML algorithms/applications.
- The development of new security-based ML algorithms/applications.
- The development of new healthcare-based ML algorithms/applications.
- The development of new educational-based ML algorithms/applications.
- The development of new sustainable agriculture-based ML algorithms/applications.
- The development of new education-based ML algorithms/applications.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute either a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Processes (ISSN 2227-9717). Processes is published in open access format – research articles, reviews, and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited, free access to the content. As an open access journal, Processes is supported by the authors and their institutes through the payment of article processing charges (APCs) for accepted papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Editor-in-Chief
