

Special Issue

Recent Developments in Automatic Control and Systems Engineering

Message from the Guest Editors

The intention is that the Special Issue will contain a number of survey papers, alongside those which are narrower in focus and perhaps are future-looking with some novel elements, but still contain an element of survey contribution in their writing. Surveys could cover a broad range of issues, including those focusing on: i) application; ii) control methodology; iii) education; iv) industrial practice; and v) more.
