10th Anniversary of Processes: Recent Advances in Food Processing Processes

Message from the Guest Editors

High-quality food production, with the use of energy-efficient processing techniques, is currently the greatest challenge for both food producers and researchers. The increasing costs of energy carriers, caused by the global energy crisis, force the search for energy-saving methods of food production. It is also necessary to find by-products processing methods that use functional and nutritional food ingredients or components of drugs and cosmetics. This Special Issue for the 10th anniversary of Processes deals precisely with these issues. Papers sent to the editorial office may be research, experimental, theoretical or computational papers. All aspects related directly or indirectly to food processing are included in the area of this Special Issue. Review papers are also welcome.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute either a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Processes (ISSN 2227-9717). Processes is published in open access format – research articles, reviews, and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited, free access to the content. As an open access journal, Processes is supported by the authors and their institutes through the payment of article processing charges (APCs) for accepted papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.
