

Special Issue

Natural and Synthetic Compounds: Processes, Challenges, and Opportunities for Human Health and Environmental Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue welcomes original research papers, communications, reviews, and other articles reporting recent applications for both natural and synthetic compounds in drug discovery and development, employing advanced methods and tool and new protocols, targets, sustainable strategies, and innovative technologies for a sustainable future, with a key role in next-generation drug discovery. These advances will not only improve efficiency and effectiveness in the design of new therapeutic agents but will also ensure that the processes involved are environmentally friendly and sustainable.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute either a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Processes (ISSN 2227-9717). Processes is published in open access format – research articles, reviews, and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited, free access to the content. As an open access journal, Processes is supported by the authors and their institutes through the payment of article processing charges (APCs) for accepted papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Editor-in-Chief
