

Special Issue

Clean Energy Technology and CO<sub>2</sub> Emission Control

Message from the Guest Editors

The 3rd National Conference on Energy and Environmental Science and Technology held in Chongqing, China on 23–26 April 2021 has the theme of “Energy and Environmental Technology in the New Era”, aiming to discuss the current energy and environment issues in wide disciplinary fields covering technologies for energy production, conversion, storage, and utilization, as well as related environmental issues. This Special Issue will collect papers extended from the abstracts of the meeting presentations. Papers related but not limited to the following topics are highly recommended for submission.

- Clean fuel production from fossil resources;
- Hydrogen production and fuel cell technologies;
- CO<sub>2</sub> fixation using renewable energy or resources;
- CO<sub>2</sub> capture and conversion technology;
- Catalysis for biomass conversion and utilization;
- Catalysis technologies for resource recovery.
