

Special Issue

Waste-Activated Sludge Treatment

Message from the Guest Editor

With the increasing awareness of national environmental protection and the increasingly strict requirements for sustainable development, the resource utilization of sludge will become a new industry, not only able to improve environmental problems, but also bolstering energy security and the realization of sustainable development. The purpose of this Special Issue is to highlight research on new technologies and processes in activated sludge treatment. Topics include, but are not limited to, the following:

- New technology for activated sludge treatment;
- The migration and release of pollutants from activated sludge treatment processes;
- The design and optimization of treatment systems for activated sludge;
- Life cycle assessment of activated sludge treatment.
