Innovative Technology for Low Carbon Development

Message from the Guest Editors

Green buildings and green industrial processes are also important for curbing the carbon dioxide emission.

Those technologies are the hope for a low carbon development, and the related scientific topics will be hot spots in the following years. This issue would like present the most innovative and potential ones for readers. We solicit contributions on topics including but not limited to:

- Novel technology in carbon dioxide capture and storage;
- Novel technology in carbon dioxide conversion and utilization;
- Innovation of high efficiency energy systems;
- Innovation, exploration and application of renewable energies;
- Novel energy storage technology in new energy systems;
- Novel green building technologies, green HVAC systems;
- Novel green industrial processes;

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute either a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Processes (ISSN 2227-9717). Processes is published in open access format – research articles, reviews, and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited, free access to the content. As an open access journal, Processes is supported by the authors and their institutes through the payment of article processing charges (APCs) for accepted papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.
