

Special Issue

Performance Measurement and Optimization for Sustainable Production Process Improvement—Volume II

Message from the Guest Editor

The scope of the Processes journal covers research in chemistry, biology, materials, and allied engineering fields. Thus, in this Special Issue, I invite articles focused on research regarding the chemistry, biology, materials, and allied engineering firms (semiconductor, steel, paper, fabric, and so on.). The aim of this Special Issue is to publish state-of-the-art analytical, theoretical, and empirical articles related to sustainable production process improvement. The Special Issue will accept papers addressing a wide spectrum of topics, including but not restricted to: 1) Benchmarking analysis for sustainable product process improvement; 2) Optimization model for sustainable product process improvement; 3) Productivity or efficiency estimation for sustainable product process improvement; 4) Scheduling optimization for sustainable product process improvement; 5) Strategies for sustainable product process improvement; 6) Innovation for sustainable product process improvement.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute either a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Processes (ISSN 2227-9717). Processes is published in open access format – research articles, reviews, and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited, free access to the content. As an open access journal, Processes is supported by the authors and their institutes through the payment of article processing charges (APCs) for accepted papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.
