New Advances in Low-Energy Processes for Geo-Energy Development: 2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to present and disseminate the most recent advances related to the new advances in low-energy processes for geo-energy development. Topics of interest for publication include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Intelligent well technologies;
- New technologies in ROP improvement;
- New technologies in cold production;
- New technologies in waterflooding for geo-energy resources development;
- New technologies in polymer flooding;
- New technologies in emulsion flooding;
- New technologies in enhanced CO₂ injection;
- New technologies in enhanced air injection;
- New technologies in enhanced steam injection;
- New technologies in heating geo-energy reservoirs;
- New technologies in geo-energy reservoir simulation;
- Low-energy processes for shale oil recovery;
- Low-energy processes for tight oil recovery.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute either a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Processes (ISSN 2227-9717). Processes is published in open access format – research articles, reviews, and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited, free access to the content. As an open access journal, Processes is supported by the authors and their institutes through the payment of article processing charges (APCs) for accepted papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Editor-in-Chief
