Recent Advances in Environmental Pollution Control and Environmental Impact Assessment

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue on “Recent Advances in Environmental pollution control and Environmental Impact Assessment” will collect high-quality research addressing challenges in the broad area of environmental pollution and assessing the impact of xenobiotics on different elements of the environment. Topics include but are not limited to the following:

- Environmental fate studies including biodegradation and bioaccumulation of contaminants;
- Distribution studies of pollutants in different environmental media;
- Remediation (including phytoremediation) employing novel strategies, findings, or interpretations;
- Adverse effects of pollutants in environmental, aquatic and terrestrial, organisms;
- Soil and water chemistry focused on interaction, degradation and speciation aspects of environmental contaminants;
- Environmental impact of agriculture;
- Impact of pollutants on human and animal health;
- Environmental microbiology.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute either a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Processes (ISSN 2227-9717). Processes is published in open access format – research articles, reviews, and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited, free access to the content. As an open access journal, Processes is supported by the authors and their institutes through the payment of article processing charges (APCs) for accepted papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.
