Advances in Food Packaging Technology

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue on "Advances in Food Packaging" Technology" focusses on the latest research and development in this area. We target specifically the development and application of novel and sustainable packaging solutions and how computational modeling and multi-criteria performance evaluation can help advance innovative packaging technologies by providing new insights for product design and process optimization. Contributions covering packaging solutions for a wide range of food production and supply chains are most welcome, including bulk/logistics packaging and retail/consumer packaging for fruit and vegetables, grain, meat, poultry, and dairy. In addition, review papers providing critical overviews of state-ofthe-art developments on packaging research are welcome.
