

Special Issue

Innovative Techniques for Safety, Reliability, and Security in Control Systems

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue on Innovative Techniques for Safety, Reliability, and Security in Control Systems aims to present the most recent advances in the application of advanced mathematics, control theory, and computational algorithms to fault diagnosis, fault-tolerant-control, and secure control. Original research papers review papers on the state of the art and visionary papers that present new perspectives, ideas, and concepts with potential impact in the future are welcomed. Potential topics include (but are not limited to):

- Fault diagnosis and fault-tolerant control in control systems;
- Innovative model-based, data-driven, artificial intelligence and statistical techniques for FD and FTC;
- Health, quality, condition and risk monitoring, and their integration with FD and FTC;
- Solutions to problems related to post-fault operation and prevention of fault propagation

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute either a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Processes (ISSN 2227-9717). Processes is published in open access format – research articles, reviews, and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited, free access to the content. As an open access journal, Processes is supported by the authors and their institutes through the payment of article processing charges (APCs) for accepted papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.
