

Special Issue

Spirituality in Action: Perspectives on New Evangelization

Message from the Guest Editor

In this Special Issue, we would like to reflect on the following ideas, among other topics:

- The role of spiritual theology in a more effective proclamation of the Gospel;
- So-called "pastoral conversion"—a new pastoral paradigm;
- New challenges that contemporary apostles must face (e.g., the Christian identity of Europe and migration, religions in the face of armed conflicts and common concern for peace);
- Ecumenical cooperation in the field of new evangelization;
- The Gospel as an answer to the question about the meaning of existence;
- The evangelical promotion of (human) life;
- New evangelization and mercy;
- Christian care for the environment;
- The place of the Gospel in scientific research and technological progress;
- Evangelization through mass media;
- The use of artificial intelligence in evangelization;
- The role of religious movements in the new evangelization;
- One evangelization—different spiritualities;
- The inculturation of the Gospel;
- Evangelization and politics;
- The Gospel/evangelization in literature, music and art —both old and new forms.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Fresh developments in the disciplines that consistently make significant contributions to our understanding of religious personality, authority, devotion, and community – disciplines ranging from psychology, sociology, and anthropology to history, art history, philosophy, literary criticism, and political science – fuel general, as well as scholarly, interest in the world's religions.

Religions is inviting innovative and comparative contributions. Please consider Religions as an exceptional, exciting enterprise ready to reward your trust, attention, and participation.
