

Special Issue

Minoan Religion and Iconography: New Material and Interpretations

Message from the Guest Editors

This issue aims at shedding new light on Minoan ritual and beliefs by using the language of images as a primary source and monuments as well as Linear B documents as important sources. Through a dialogue with past interpretations, the progress made in the field through spectacular new finds will be assessed. This special edition will hopefully bring important debates about Minoan religion, such as monotheism vs. polytheism, death rituals and festivals up to date.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Fresh developments in the disciplines that consistently make significant contributions to our understanding of religious personality, authority, devotion, and community – disciplines ranging from psychology, sociology, and anthropology to history, art history, philosophy, literary criticism, and political science – fuel general, as well as scholarly, interest in the world's religions.

Religions is inviting innovative and comparative contributions. Please consider Religions as an exceptional, exciting enterprise ready to reward your trust, attention, and participation.
