

Special Issue

Religious Nationalism in Contemporary Europe

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite you to submit a manuscript for our Special Issue, Religion and Nationalism in Contemporary Europe. This issue explores the resurgence and transformation of religious nationalism, analysing how nationalist movements intersect with religious identities in an era shaped by globalisation, migration, and shifting geopolitics. We welcome contributions examining Christianity (Catholic, Orthodox, Protestant), Islam, Judaism, and other traditions, addressing topics such as:

- Theory: Conceptualising religious nationalism, post-secularism, religion and modernity
- Politics: Religious rhetoric in populist movements, faith-based parties, EU integration
- Society & Culture: Public religious symbols, education, media representations
- Minorities & Pluralism: Minority responses, interfaith dialogue
- Comparative Approaches: Cross-national, historical, and global perspectives

Please submit a proposed title and 200–300-word abstract to the or to Dr. Ana Vujković Šakanović (vujkovic.sakanovic@mdpi.com). Abstracts will be reviewed for scope fit; full manuscripts will undergo double-blind peer review. We look forward to your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Fresh developments in the disciplines that consistently make significant contributions to our understanding of religious personality, authority, devotion, and community – disciplines ranging from psychology, sociology, and anthropology to history, art history, philosophy, literary criticism, and political science – fuel general, as well as scholarly, interest in the world's religions.

Religions is inviting innovative and comparative contributions. Please consider Religions as an exceptional, exciting enterprise ready to reward your trust, attention, and participation.
