Functions of Religion Among Young People: Diverse Religious, Spiritual and Non-Religious Worldviews

Message from the Guest Editors

From this perspective, we will examine the different forms of religiosity and spirituality prevalent among youth, as well as the various types of disbelief. Potential

Topics:

- Youth, sacredness and ritual.
- Youth, forms of spirituality, religiosity and disbelief.
- Youth and the universes of transcendence and immanence. Relationships and tensions.
- Intergenerational relationships and modes of religiosity, spirituality and disbelief.

We request that, prior to submitting a manuscript, interested authors initially submit a proposed title and an abstract of 200-300 words summarizing their intended contribution. Please send this to the or to the Assistant Editor Sandee Pan (sandee.pan@mdpi.com) of Religions. Abstracts will be reviewed by the for the purpose of ensuring proper fit within the scope of this Special Issue. Full manuscripts will undergo double-blind peer review. We look forward to receiving your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Fresh developments in the disciplines that consistently make significant contributions to our understanding of religious personality, authority, devotion, and community – disciplines ranging from psychology, sociology, and anthropology to history, art history, philosophy, literary criticism, and political science – fuel general, as well as scholarly, interest in the world's religions.

Religions is inviting innovative and comparative contributions. Please consider Religions as an exceptional, exciting enterprise ready to reward your trust, attention, and participation.
