

Special Issue

Emerging Field of Bioethics in South Asian Religions

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue invites contributions that expand and challenge our understanding of bioethics in all South Asian religions, including Hinduism, Buddhism, Jainism, Sikhism, and tribal religions. Topics may include, but are not limited to, ethical and religious considerations surrounding in vitro fertilization, contraception, abortion, sex selection, cloning, and genetic engineering in South Asian religious traditions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Fresh developments in the disciplines that consistently make significant contributions to our understanding of religious personality, authority, devotion, and community – disciplines ranging from psychology, sociology, and anthropology to history, art history, philosophy, literary criticism, and political science – fuel general, as well as scholarly, interest in the world's religions.

Religions is inviting innovative and comparative contributions. Please consider Religions as an exceptional, exciting enterprise ready to reward your trust, attention, and participation.
