

Special Issue

Feminism from the Perspective of Catholic Theology

Message from the Guest Editor

The purpose of this issue is to look at Feminism as an intellectual tradition, to obtain a macro level picture of the essential 'hallmarks' of feminist theory as well as a detailed analysis of the various different branches and divisions within the Feminist tradition. Different Catholic scholars will then examine these various 'hallmarks', 'branches' and 'divisions' from the perspective of Catholic theology. The contributions of the female Doctors of the Church will also be presented.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Fresh developments in the disciplines that consistently make significant contributions to our understanding of religious personality, authority, devotion, and community – disciplines ranging from psychology, sociology, and anthropology to history, art history, philosophy, literary criticism, and political science – fuel general, as well as scholarly, interest in the world's religions.

Religions is inviting innovative and comparative contributions. Please consider Religions as an exceptional, exciting enterprise ready to reward your trust, attention, and participation.
