

Special Issue

500 Years of Christianity in the Philippines: Impact on Asia and the World

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue seeks to re-examine the intersection between culture, mission, history, and theology in the worldwide Christian movement. Theologians, missiologists, historians, religious educators, and scholars are invited to critically examine and reflect upon the role of religion in the life, culture, history, and daily experiences of people. Since Christian faith has been a cross-cultural and diverse religion with multiple expressions, these points of convergence are excellent opportunities for discussion among scholars. As the Christian faith continues to journey into new cultural settings, it is worth exploring the paths it has traversed and the direction it is headed. Additionally, this Special Issue revisits the role of the Christian faith in the Philippines. The predominantly Catholic country will celebrate its 500 years of Christianity in 2021. As such, it will be a valuable locus of inquiry on the interplay of Christian faith and culture and the impact of Christianity on Asia and the world. This Special Issue hopes to significantly contribute to the growing body of literature in world Christianity, missiology, and theology.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Fresh developments in the disciplines that consistently make significant contributions to our understanding of religious personality, authority, devotion, and community – disciplines ranging from psychology, sociology, and anthropology to history, art history, philosophy, literary criticism, and political science – fuel general, as well as scholarly, interest in the world's religions.

Religions is inviting innovative and comparative contributions. Please consider Religions as an exceptional, exciting enterprise ready to reward your trust, attention, and participation.
