

Special Issue

Islamic Feminism in the Age of Consent

Message from the Guest Editor

Scholarship on Islam and feminism has a myriad of approaches ranging from historical, hermeneutical, mystical, theological, philosophical, anthropological, media, and many others. These approaches bring about specific issues within each discipline and locality. In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. Research areas may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Defining Islamic feminism: then and now;
- #metoo movements and their impact on consent;
- Debates over consent in the Quran and/or the prophetic tradition;
- Marital rape and consent;
- Consent and sexual ethics: origin and development;
- Consent and Muslim women's agency;
- Consent from the Fiqh perspective;
- Debating consent in a specific Muslim country;
- Decolonizing consent in Muslim contexts;
- Consent in Islamic law;
- Toxic masculine cultures and anti-feminism.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Fresh developments in the disciplines that consistently make significant contributions to our understanding of religious personality, authority, devotion, and community – disciplines ranging from psychology, sociology, and anthropology to history, art history, philosophy, literary criticism, and political science – fuel general, as well as scholarly, interest in the world's religions.

Religions is inviting innovative and comparative contributions. Please consider Religions as an exceptional, exciting enterprise ready to reward your trust, attention, and participation.
