

Special Issue

Humanist and Secular Spiritual Care: Concepts and Practices in Changing Contexts

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue will focus on humanist and other forms of secular spiritual care, the key concepts that underlie the work and the way these emerge in practice. This Special Issue may include the following topics:

- Concepts related to humanist/secular spiritual care, e.g., autonomy, resilience, horizontal transcendence, connectedness, dignity, recognition, and resonance;
- Changing settings and populations;
- The development of new humanist/secular spiritual care practices or approaches in traditional settings;
- The implementation of existing humanist/secular interventions or approaches in new settings or with new groups;
- The design of effective models of humanist/secular spiritual care;
- Educational programs addressing humanist/secular spiritual care;
- Professional ethics and/or ethical dilemmas in humanist/secular spiritual care;
- The political aim of humanist spiritual care to promote humanization in organizations and society, and its relationship with the spiritual focus.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Fresh developments in the disciplines that consistently make significant contributions to our understanding of religious personality, authority, devotion, and community – disciplines ranging from psychology, sociology, and anthropology to history, art history, philosophy, literary criticism, and political science – fuel general, as well as scholarly, interest in the world's religions.

Religions is inviting innovative and comparative contributions. Please consider Religions as an exceptional, exciting enterprise ready to reward your trust, attention, and participation.
