Risk Management in Financial Inclusion

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue aims to collect the recent results in the research area of risk management in financial inclusion and its implications for financial institutions and the unbanked population. We invite papers presenting original research on related topics, including, but not limited to, the following:

- Models for risk management adapted to the unbanked population.
- Innovations for the financial inclusion improvement rate.
- Trade-offs between financial inclusion and risk-taking by financial institutions.
- Fintech, financial inclusion, and financial stability.
- The social risk management of financial inclusion and financial well-being in old age.
- Corporate governance and risk-taking by non-profit financial institutions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Risks is published in an open access format; research articles, reviews, and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. Specifically, Risks welcomes submissions that (a) contribute with insight, outlook, understanding, and overview; (b) show creativity in terms of pedagogical methods and techniques; (c) help the transfer of theoretical and applied research into applications in the public and private domains; and (d) show responsibility for the impact on society. The scientific and the general public have unlimited free access to the content as soon as it is published.
