Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

Smart environments can lead to new or more frequent types of cybersecurity risks, such as many more attacks on cyber surfaces that are becoming inherently more accessible, the rise in silent cyber-risks, and less inbuilt security at design for some (e.g., lower-resource) devices that may also be embedded in more complex systems.

This Special Issue seeks to collect the latest research and innovations concerning “Cybersecurity and Privacy in Smart Environments”.

Should you have any questions, contact me directly or MDPI in-house special issue editor at sakota@mdpi.com.

Best regards,

Dr. Stefan Poslad

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.

Author Benefits

Open Access : free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.
