Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Unmanned aerial vehicles (UAV) can fly between waypoints without a human in the cockpit, drastically reducing the cost of aerial surveillance in precision agriculture. Aerial surveillance data are now available for every type of field operation, from scouting crop yields to detecting emerging pestilence and crop diseases to assessing the impact of floods and natural disasters to tracking livestock. However, farmers need analytic tools to translate data sensed by UAV into actions that will improve agricultural output. These tools must (1) provide robust insights for multiple operations, geographic regions, topological factors, and business models, (2) employ understandable and explainable techniques that build trust, and (3) have practical pathways to real-world use.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.

Author Benefits

Open Access : free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Ei Compendex, Inspec, Astrophysics Data System, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Instruments & Instrumentation) / CiteScore - Q1 (Instrumentation)
