

Special Issue

Intelligent Wireless Sensor Networks for Internet of Things Applications

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue welcomes all submissions on the latest advances and trends in intelligent wireless sensor networks for IoT applications. We seek high-quality and original research papers offering emerging theories, outlining the architecture and potential applications of intelligent wireless sensor networks that will benefit the IoT applications. Topics of interest for this Special Issue include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Advanced and intelligent wireless sensor networks architecture for future IoT applications;
- Enabling techniques enhancing intelligent wireless sensor networks for future IoT applications;
- Performance analysis of intelligent wireless sensor networks for future IoT applications;
- Resource allocation/management in intelligent wireless sensor networks for future IoT applications;
- Demo, use cases and testbeds of intelligent wireless sensor networks for future IoT applications.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Ei Compendex, Inspec, Astrophysics Data System, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Instruments and Instrumentation) / CiteScore - Q1 (Instrumentation)
