Selected papers from the 16th International Conference on Intelligent Environments (IE2020)

Message from the Guest Editor

Intelligent environments (IE) refer to physical spaces in which IT and other pervasive computing technology are woven and used to achieve specific goals for the user, the environment, or both. IEs have the ultimate objective of enriching user experience, improving management, and increasing user awareness of that environment. This Special Issue is dedicated to the 16th International Conference on Intelligent Environments (IE2020) <https://blogs.upm.es/ie2020/>. Authors of outstanding papers related to "Intelligent Environments", including smart cities, IoT, wearables, WSN, etc., according to their topics, will be invited to submit extended versions of their work to the Special Issue for publication. About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.
