

Special Issue

Mobile Communication in Wireless Sensors Networks

Message from the Guest Editors

The purpose of this Special Issue is to solicit papers from academia and industry with original and innovative contributions on all aspects of mobile communication in WSNs and IoT infrastructures that present and go beyond the state of the art, highlight challenges, and open new research perspectives. Topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- Communication protocols;
- Routing protocols;
- Validation and verification techniques;
- Security and privacy issues;
- Localization of sensors and devices;
- Remote maintenance and control;
- Resilience;
- Digital infrastructures and IoT;
- Energy and mobile WSN;
- Hardware for mobile WSN;
- Mobile WSN and standards;
- Testbed, experiments, and industrial evaluations

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.

Editor-in-Chief
