Selected Papers from TENCON 2018

Message from the Guest Editors

TENCON is a premier conference of IEEE Region 10. IEEE TENCON 2018 will be held at Jeju Island, Korea, from 28–31 October, 2018 (<http://tencon2018.org/>). Traditionally, TENCONs have encompassed all areas in electrical and electronics engineering, as well as information technologies. Recently, advances in sensor technologies have had a remarkable influence on TENCON; sensors and their applications now stand out as notable topics in every area of TENCON, which includes materials, devices, communications, signal processing, and computing. While following the tradition of previous TENCONs, TENCON 2018 will provide a place to deeply discuss the infrastructure that leads to “smartness everywhere”. In such a place, we expect that highly valuable research works will be presented on sensors, sensor networks, and their applications. [...] For more information, please visit link.
