Car Crash: Sensing, Monitoring and Detection

Message from the Guest Editors

Sensors (ISSN 1424-8220; CODEN: SENS9) is the leading international, peer-reviewed, open access journal on the science and technology of sensors. Sensors is published semimonthly online by MDPI. The Polish Society of Applied Electromagnetics (PTZE) and Japan Society of Photogrammetry and Remote Sensing (JSPRS) are affiliated with Sensors, and their members receive a discount on the article processing charges. Car motion monitoring by special sensors is a technology attracting a large number of researchers and companies all over the world. Many strategies of sensing are under investigation, ranging from accelerometer sensors to image processing and acoustic emission in the case of crashes, involving data fusion processes. The topics for this issue include, but are not limited to, the following: Sensors and techniques for car crash monitoring and driving behaviour; Sensor data fusion and integration etc. For further information about the topics of interest, please visit:

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.

Editor-in-Chief
