Optical Sensors, Biosensors and Sensing Methodologies: Novel Materials, Approaches, Configurations and Applications

Message from the Guest Editors

Novel sensing methodologies based on optical sensors are used in numerous important fields, including pharmaceutical research, medical diagnostics, environmental monitoring, agriculture, industrial applications, food safety and security. Works dealing with all the features of this technology are sought, including but not limited to, recent developments in: New configurations based on optical sensors, hybrid devices, novel experimental setup to improve the sensitivity, miniaturization, multiplexing capabilities and microfluidic integration, optical integrated biosensor systems (lab-on-chip), new bio/chemical receptors for optical sensors and new optical devices for biochemical sensing.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Ei Compendex, Inspec, Astrophysics Data System, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Instruments and Instrumentation) / CiteScore - Q1 (Instrumentation)
