Message from the Guest Editors

Food products are complex matrices containing various molecules, which can have beneficial or harmful effects on human health, determine the flavour of foodstuffs, and be related to food spoilage. The development of separation techniques resulted in the massive increase of studies focused on the analysis of compounds in food samples.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Separations offers the scientific community a high-quality, open-access journal option with rapid time-to-publication without any sacrifice of a rigorous peer-review process. We invite contributions ranging from fundamental characterization and instrumentation development through application of techniques to shed light on a broad spectrum of separation science needs. Since inception, Chromatography, has become unique in its combination of rapid publication and thorough scientific content. We invite you to consider us for your next contribution.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 13.6 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2023).
