Special Issue

Advanced Methods for Recovery of Valuable Metals from Waste

Message from the Guest Editors

For this Special Issue, we are inviting high-quality original articles focusing both on state-of-the-art approaches and newly developed methods for the recovery of valuable metals from waste. Some areas of interests will cover, but are not limited to:

- Extraction of valuable metals from waste.
- Development of advanced methods and novel processes for metal recovery.
- Optimization of existing processes to increase efficiency and the recovery rate.
- Comprehensive utilization of recovered metals.
- Thermodynamic and kinetic studies of the recovery process.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Separations offers the scientific community a high-quality, open-access journal option with rapid time-to-publication without any sacrifice of a rigorous peer-review process. We invite contributions ranging from fundamental characterization and instrumentation development through application of techniques to shed light on a broad spectrum of separation science needs. Since inception, Separations, has become unique in its combination of rapid publication and thorough scientific content. We invite you to consider us for your next contribution.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.3 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.7 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).

Recognition of Reviewers:

reviewers who provide timely, thorough peer-review reports receive vouchers entitling them to a discount on the APC of their next publication in any MDPI journal, in appreciation of the work done.
