Nonprofit Organizations and Societal Approaches to Policy

Message from the Guest Editors

We are seeking paper submissions for a Special Issue of the open source journal Societies that deal with NGOs and social policy. The focus is broad and sociological, although papers from any discipline are welcomed.

These may be research papers, policy briefs, or applied papers. By NGOs, we mean any of a number of equivalent terms: nonprofit organizations, third-sector organizations, voluntary organizations, social economy organizations, charities, civil society organizations, or nongovernmental organizations (NGOs). By social policy, we mean initiatives for social action and change, undertaken by a governmental unit, an NGO, or a social movement intended to affect the local, regional, or societal levels of collective life. About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Societies (ISSN 2075-4698) is an interdisciplinary journal that brings together different scientific approaches to engage with societal questions to enhance our understanding of the social realm throughout history. The journal publishes original empirical research papers, literature reviews, and conceptual papers. Our aim is to publish papers that have a significant impact on addressing present and emerging societal questions. Therefore, we encourage researchers to publish their results in as much detail as possible. For empirical research papers and literature reviews, all experimental details must be provided, so that the results are reproducible. We also encourage the publication of timely theoretical pieces on topics of interest to existing and emerging societal questions. Papers are either published in the open journal or in Special Issues devoted to specific topics of interest to the field.
