Selected Papers from 11th International Digital Storytelling Conference 2023: Radical Listening: Story Work for a Just Future

Message from the Guest Editors

In collaboration with the 11th International Digital Storytelling conference (DST 2023), to be held in the Washington/Baltimore metropolitan region of the United States in June 2023, we invite the submission of papers presented at the conference for inclusion in a special issue of Social Sciences. DST 2023: *Radical Listening: Story Work for a Just Future focuses on how story work can help to strengthen our communities and build understanding across divides. Conference papers will focus on context, content, purpose, and practice through a variety of lenses, including:

- Radical listening for amplifying voices;
- Cultivating hopes and healing for a just future;
- Story luminaries: shining light on cultures, voices, and practices;
- Equity and access;
- Urgent story work in urgent times;
- Building and cultivating communities;
- Histories and cultures in storytelling;
- Research on DS as research methodology;
- DS for assessment;
- DS pedagogy.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Social Sciences is an international open access peer-reviewed journal publishing the latest research across all disciplines of the social sciences including anthropology, criminology, economics, education, geography, history, law, linguistics, political science, psychology, social policy, social work, sociology and related areas. The journal is especially interested in interdisciplinary research, and aims to facilitate the interaction and communication between different social scientific disciplines. The journal welcomes conventional length articles as well as shorter Research Notes or short articles, as long as they meet the journal's standards of quality and originality.
