Special Issue

Break the Chains: Global Efforts in Eradication and Prevention of Human Trafficking

Message from the Guest Editor

We need to raise global awareness of human trafficking since it is still a hidden crime that often goes unnoticed by the general public. This journal will raise awareness and bring attention to the complexities and severity of the issue. This will provide a platform for researchers, activists, and policymakers to share their findings, strategies, and innovations. This helps in disseminating knowledge and best practices widely. We must recognize that human trafficking is a multifaceted issue involving legal, social, economic, and health dimensions. Evidence-based research and understanding of the impact of these issues will inform policymaking and aid the development of effective laws and interventions to combat human trafficking. By fostering this topic as a global issue, this edition will serve as an educational tool for students, educators, and the public, helping to build a more informed and proactive society. More importantly, it will provide a voice for advocates and activists working to combat human trafficking, offering them a platform to highlight their work and inspire others to join the cause and help coordinate efforts toward eradication.

Guest Editor

Prof. Dr. Cathryn Lavery

Dyson College of Arts and Sciences, Pace University and Integrated Justice Solutions, New York, NY 10038, USA

Deadline for manuscript submissions

28 February 2026

Social Sciences

MDPI

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Social Sciences is an international open access peer-reviewed journal publishing the latest research across all disciplines of the social sciences including anthropology, criminology, economics, education, geography, history, law, linguistics, political science, psychology, social policy, social work, sociology and related areas. The journal is especially interested in interdisciplinary research, and aims to facilitate the interaction and communication between different social scientific disciplines. The journal welcomes conventional length articles as well as shorter Research Notes or short articles, as long as they meet the journal's standards of quality and originality.

Editor-in-Chief

Emeritus Prof. Nigel Parton
School of Human and Health Sciences, University of Huddersfield, Huddersfield HD1 3DH, UK

Author Benefits

Open Access:
free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High visibility:
indexed within Scopus, ESCI (Web of Science), RePEc, and other databases.

Journal Rank:
JCR - Q2 (Social Sciences, Interdisciplinary) / CiteScore - Q2 (General Social Sciences)