Message from the Guest Editors

We are glad to announce a “Stats” Special Issue on “Benford's Law(s) and Applications (Second Edition)”. We are inviting manuscripts on Benford's Law(s) theory, testing, and applications in widely different scientific contexts. Suitable manuscripts may include but are not limited to the Benford's Law(s) for fraud detection and assessment of data quality and reliability; conformance tests; applications in and outside accounting; and theoretical foundations. The purpose of this Special Issue is to collect, in a single source, for better visibility, recent theoretical and applied advancements in a still-progressing field. We look forward to receiving your submissions.
