Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue calls for research covering a wide range of aspects related to sustainability accounting and its impact on accountability of for-profit, not-for-profit, and public sector organizations. The new Anthropocene era is calling for an increased awareness of the social, environmental, and economic impacts of organizational activities, and strategic and operational decision-making. Accounting and accountability practices are deeply involved in this process by systematically identifying, measuring, and representing the interlinks of the social, environmental, and economic costs and benefits and the overall sustainability.

We welcome submissions of studies that investigate all forms of sustainable accounting (e.g., carbon accounting, wellbeing accounting, environmental accounting, biodiversity accounting) and accountability (e.g., integrated reporting, non-financial disclosures, popular reporting, sustainability reporting).

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer-reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.

Author Benefits

Open Access:—free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High visibility: indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded and Social Sciences Citation Index (Web of Science), as well as Scopus and other databases.

Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision provided to authors approximately 14.5 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2020).
