Message from the Guest Editors

The effect of biomass production and bioenergy generation on the environment is a very complex subject, highly site-specific and dependent on, for example, the species, production regime, productivity, supply chain, and energy conversion technologies used. Often, multidisciplinary approaches are required to analyze the existent complex interrelations and integrate different perspectives. The link between bioenergy and biodiversity is being investigated more and more. In the last two decades, the number of research papers that focus on bioenergy and biodiversity has been steadily increasing, but further research is needed to determine the proper balances between bioenergy production and biodiversity conservation in different contexts. In this Special Issue, we would like to publish state-of-the-art studies on the link between bioenergy and biodiversity. We aim at publishing works that have an integrated and multidisciplinary approach to the topic.
