Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

You are invited to submit your paper to this Special Issue, which is devoted to a wide range of questions related to digitalization processes that inevitably affect the sustainable development patterns in organizations, industries, and regions.

The Issue will focus the following problems: digitalization, internationalization and digitalization, e-commerce, industry 4.0, cybersecurity, e-government, energy transformations toward sustainability, smart grids, digitalization and the circular economy, knowledge management, digitalization and education, and a wide range of issues related to digital entrepreneurship and sustainable development of industries and countries.

The purpose of the Issue is to gather studies revealing and discussing contemporary challenges to sustainable development on the levels of organizations, industries, societies, and countries.
