Message from the Guest Editor

Higher education in Post-COVID-19 times is challenged by numerous factors. Bridging the gap between academia and industry and promoting meaningful research towards the promotion of UN Sustainable Development Goals are viable responses to a new paradigm shift in higher education. The purpose of this Special Issue is to promote scientific dialogue for the social impact of higher education and its contribution to the vision of digital transformation.

We are inviting multidisciplinary research related to four significant pillars and topics:

Pillar 1. Foundations of SDG research and digital transformation in higher education:

Pillar 2. Novel theoretical models, frameworks, and approaches for the integration of SDGs in higher education:

Pillar 3. Digital transformation in all aspects of the value chain in higher education:

Pillar 4. Higher education out of the box: new business models and new educational models:

Pillar 5: Case studies and indicative projects: dissemination of key outcomes.
