Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

Knowledge management promotes multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary research, exploiting contributions from Social Sciences, Information Systems research, as well as Education and Psychology domains. It serves as a holistic approach to the exploitation of structured and unstructured knowledge residing in digitized systems, human minds, and social assemblies. The latest developments in sophisticated, distributed information systems for Big Data management also set new challenges

Toward this end, the Guest Editors of this Special Issue seek papers that address, but are not limited to, the following issues and aspects related to the diverse aspects of Sustainable Data Science research:

- Knowledge Management Topics
- Social Impact and Social Value Topics
- R&D Projects Dissemination
