Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The objective of this Special Issue entitled "Emerging Sustainable Materials for Environmental Engineering" is to collect and publish the latest research results aimed at overcoming environmental concerns using materials science and engineering for sustainability, combining new advances and research results in the field of advanced materials engineering and technology.

Original research on luminescent materials for medical imaging, energy storage, and conversion systems will also be considered.

Original research papers and reviews are welcome. Research areas may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Preparation and characterization of sustainable materials;
- Recycling and waste management of materials;
- Wastewater treatment;
- Environmental applications of green materials;
- The life cycle of emerging materials;
- Materials for energy production, storage, and conversion;
- Emerging materials for oil and gas;
- Sustainability and the environment;
- Luminescent materials for medical imaging;

I look forward to receiving your contributions.
