Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

During the last several decades, the need to preserve natural resources and meet sustainable targets, such as those established in the Paris Agreement, has led us to pay more attention to the inclusion of sustainable criteria in all engineering projects. The road pavement industry has a great impact on the three pillars of sustainability (environment, economy, and society). Thus, this special issue entitled "Pavement Materials and Sustainability" aims to publish the latest, original and innovative research developed in the field of pavement materials with special emphasis in sustainability aspects. We encourage authors to submit their research focused on the development of more sustainable materials for pavements, and their life cycle assessment (LCA), life cycle cost analysis (LCCA), and/or any sustainability assessments. Papers including research related to pavement materials and sustainability, considering project design, construction, manufacturing and maintenance techniques are also welcome.
