Shrinking Cities—Testing Ground for Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue will focus on how the fate of shrinking cities depends on the way in which local, regional and national governance tackle the issue, with a particular focus on sustainability. We present a wide range of approaches to exploring and evidencing these questions, including case studies all over the world, embracing both quantitative and qualitative empirical research, as well as original contributions in the field of urban theory.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer-reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High visibility: indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded and Social Sciences Citation Index (Web of Science), as well as Scopus and other databases.

Rapid publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision provided to authors approximately 18 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 4.9 days (median values for papers published in the first six months of 2018).
